

Leopold Center Art Day 2017

Saturday, October 28th

The Leopold Center, Baraboo, Wisconsin

About Leopold Center Art Day:

Following the enormous success of Leopold Center Art Day the last nine years, the Aldo Leopold Foundation will again be inviting local and regional artists and artisans to participate in this year's program. Art Day 2017 will feature hands on activities, demonstrations, and time for individual interaction with each artist. With talented artisans as guides, we hope to inspire our visitors to think more critically about the ways their lives impact the natural world and how art inspires them to deepen that connection.

- Work should be inspired by or have a direct connection to the natural world.
- A selection committee will review proposals; selections will be made by September 14th.
- Artists and artisans are encouraged to offer hands-on activities, do demonstrations, and bring original work to exhibit and sell on Art Day.
- No imported, manufactured work or works from commercial kits or molds are allowed.

To be considered as contributing artist:

1. Complete the attached application
2. Include a brief biographical description
3. Attach photos or scans of some of your work
4. Return completed copy by Friday, September 1st to:
